Young Scientists' Symposium ICMART 2014

Announcement

The Young Scientist Symposium is an event organized for young researchers by the International Council of Medical Acupuncture and Related Techniques ICMART since Vienna 2013.

The Young Investigator Symposium encourages and recognizes young scientific investigators of promise, upon whom progress in the field of acupuncture and related techniques is dependent. Interested candidates should submit an abstract summarizing any problem that relates to acupuncture techniques and their use whether it is in etiology, pathophysiology, diagnosis, or therapy of symptoms or diseases.

The deadline for submissions is April 28th 2014 - submit your science today.

Eligibility: Physicians, scientists, medical students and other healthcare providers currently in residency or fellowship programs, or are no more than three years out of training.

Framework: The symposium will be held orally in an additional session being part of the program at the ICMART 2014 Congress, June 6th to 8th in Istanbul, Turkey (<http://icmart2014.com/>). Time for presentation is 10 minutes with 3 minutes additional time for discussion. All abstracts will compete for the 3B Awards (granted by 3B Scientific GmbH, Hamburg, Germany).

Submission: Abstracts must contain original scientific data collected by the author. Language of the abstracts and talks is English. Abstract texts must be a maximum of 500 words. Recommended font is Arial 10 pt, double line spacing. The following should be included:

- 1) Title (in capital case)
- 2) Presenting Author full name (family name second) and affiliation (including her/his organization, city and country)
- 3) Contributing authors full names and contributions
- 4) Abstracts should have the following structure (headings): Purpose, Relevance, Participants, Methods, Analysis, Results, Conclusions
- 5) If the study has been supported by a grant, please indicate the source of funding at the bottom of your abstract
- 6) Indicate all conflict of interest
- 7) Please also include a three-line biography note of the applicant
- 8) Number references should be placed in the order they appear in the abstract

The deadline for submissions is April 28th 2014. Please submit your abstract to the following e-mail address: fuezeki@sport.uni-frankfurt.de

The congress fee for young scientists WITH accepted abstracts will be reduced to 200 Euros.
